- Do you have a security keypad?
- Do you have to change the code after every incident or response?
- Have you lost track of how many people know the code?
- Do you know who has access to the code?

STOP!

Using the same code continuously is a security risk and compromises your safety

24/7 Security now offers a wireless keypad with 999 pre-loaded random OTP codes. In the event of an incident, the 24/7 Security Control Room will provide the responding officer with a code to enter the property. The code is valid a single entry, thereafter, the code expires and can not be used again. A new code will be issued every time an officer requires access to the property.
